

Hi friend,

The updated The Call of Ktulu bass tab is here, plus the most complete isolated bass track by far, made with the help of Apocalyptica, modern soft, and some Metallica/bass/transcription experience on my side. It's a raw version that you have a special peek into as my newsletter follower (but even at this stage it's probably the most accurate tab you'll find).

Check the tabs and track out via the link below. You'll find more commentary on how it's made in the description under the video with the bass-only.

And here's link to our secret vault of previous newsletters with more exclusive and early-access stuff, including tabs for Newsted's Ktulu and Robert's Anesthesia <https://basstabs.org/vault/>

Hope you find it all helpful. Feel free to suggest improvements or ask questions via the comments under the video or the contact form on the website.

Cheers,

Andriy
