

Hi friend,

Another Metallica instrumental is done. Now it's the one from Justice.

There's not much happening there with bass, since it's mostly doubling the guitar. But you do know which part is an exception. And now it's transcribed with 95% accuracy, thanks to the rough mix that has Jason's bass louder. It also reveals some curious nuances of his part, such as a possible little fuk-up on the swingy bridge (off a fret, happens to everyone, even with Cliff on Master).

Check out the tabs and isolated track here <https://basstabs.org/metallica-to-live-is-to-die-bass-tab/>

And here's our archive of previous newsletters with special stuff, including two The Call of Ktulu tabs - by Jason and Cliff (both aren't public yet and going through revision) <https://basstabs.org/vault/>

Next up's Orion, I guess. Plus, Ktulu revised. And Anesthesia... Anyway, plenty of fun's ahead, so stay updated! To support the project, you can Buy Me A Coffee at the bottom of the website.

Enjoy playing, contact me via a form on the website, if anything, and see you after I turn 32 next Sunday :)
